The Blind Men and the Elephant

A HINDOO TALE—BY JOHN G. SAXE

I was once told to understand
To illustrate my theme
Why men do differ in opinion
Who never differ in the old plant
(That is all of them were blind,)
That each by observation
Might strongly his mind

The first approached the elephant
And happening to fall
Against his broad and sturdy side
At once began to bawl
God bless me!—but the elephant
Is very like a wall!

The second feeling of the tusk
Cried ho!—what have we here,
So very round and smooth and sharp?
To me 'tis mighty clear
The wonder of an elephant
Is very like a spear!

The third approached the animal,
And happening to take
The squirming trunk within his hands
Thus boldly up and spoke
I see" quoth he "the elephant
Is very like a snake!"

The fourth reached out his eager hand,
And felt about the knee,
What most this wonderful beast is like
He might plain" quoth he,
'Tis clear enough the elephant
Is very like a tree!"

The fifth who chanced to touch the ear,
Said, "Even the blindest man
Can tell what this resembles most—
Deny the fact who can,
This marvel of an elephant
Is very like a fan!

The sixth no sooner had begun

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC 11, 1861.

☞ Some interesting articles will be found on the first and last pages of this paper.

Secessionists the Allies of England.

The Victoria Colonist of the 4th has a leader on the taking of Slidell and Mason from a British mail steamer, and speculates upon the results which may grow out of the affair. The Colonist says that a British ship on the high seas cannot but be held to be as sacred an asylum for any political offender of the United States as the Tower of London; and that it was fully believed that the United States would give up to the British, Slidell and Mason, if requested to do by Lord Lyons. The Colonist further intimates that if this is not done a war may follow between England and the United States.

Our object is not to reply in this article to these speculations of the Victoria editor; but to present to our readers his views in regard to the Secessionists on the Pacific coast. The English editor has been a close observer of the policy pursued by the secession party in Oregon and California, and the public declarations of its leaders, and doubtless the opinions he has given of them are the results of his convictions. The Colonist says:

"If, however, it be the policy of the Federal Government to make the outrage a casus belli, and should a rupture take place with Great Britain, we may safely predict the final dissolution of the United States. England would at once recognize the independence of the South; become their ally offensively and defensively, raise the blockade of Southern ports, put in turn blockade the Northern ports and destroy their merchant marine; whilst with Canada in the North, the Confederate army in the South, and the British fleet in Northern waters, they would force the Federal Government to make peace with England and recognize the independence of the South. On this coast, the Pacific fleet, augmented by a squadron from the Chinese Seas, would capture and hold San Francisco, command the Columbia River, and make Washington Territory a British Providence, and, combined with the 75,000 Secessionists in Oregon and California, the Pacific States would pass from under the Federal sway during the continuance of the war, either through being held up England or consolidated into a Pacific Republic under her protection."

We cannot complain of the views of the Colonist, so far as he expects assistance in the war which he anticipates, under certain circumstances, from the secessionists of Oregon and California. They have in all forms possible denounced our government, and so far as they dare, have lent their aid to the rebels who are seeking to overthrow it. They have, to place the cap sheaf upon their acts of hostility, sent a man to represent Oregon in the Senate of the United States, who has, in all possible forms, declared his hostility to our government, and his sympathy and good wishes in behalf of the Southern rebellion; and hence we say, that the speculations of the English editor are not unreasonable, that in a war with England on this coast, they would act with the English military forces, and against the United States. They would be the more apt to do this, as the English, probably, as hinted by the Colonist, after adding Washington Territory to the British dominions, would favor the darling idea of the secessionists, the establishment of a Pacific Republic, to be made up of the States of Oregon and California. We know that was the idea of Jo Lane and of those who acted with him long ago, and we have no idea they would relinquish it when they saw the measure within their grasp.

The rank and file of the secession party in Oregon and California can learn from the speculations of this English editor the gulf to which their leaders are driving them; and can change their course, if they choose to do so, while there is time.

"Secessionism is treason," and the English editor, as well as our government, and the secessionists themselves, know it to be so.

"Lost Money and Goods."

The recent flood has carried into the river a vast amount of goods and other property—which are likely to be taken up by persons living upon the river. There are laws for the disposition of such property, by which the taker up is paid for his labor in securing it—the remainder to go into the hands of the owners—if such are found—and if not into the treasury of the county.

Persons who take up property would do well to make themselves acquainted with the laws on this subject; and it may be well to state here, that property lost on the river is not free plunder—as many may learn to their cost.

The law says:—

"If any person shall find any money or goods of the value of five dollars or more, and if the owner thereof be unknown, such person shall, within five days after finding such money or goods, give notice thereof in writing, to the clerk of the board of county commissioners of the county in which such property was found; and, shall also, within said five days, cause a notice thereof to be posted up in two public places in said county."

"Every finder of lost goods of the value of fifteen dollars or more, shall, in addition to the requirements in the preceding section, within fifteen days after finding the same, cause notice thereof to be published in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one published therein; and if there be none, then such notice shall be posted up in three of the most public places of the county; and if no person shall appear to claim the same who may be entitled thereto, he shall, within two months after finding such goods, and before using the same to their injury, procure an appraisal thereof by a justice of the peace of his county, which appraisal shall be certified to by such justice, and filed in the office of the clerk of the board of the county commissioners of such county."

There is another section which says that the finder of goods who does not comply with the provisions of the law, shall be responsible for their full value. And we suppose that persons who take from a lot of lost property less than five dollars' worth and secrete it, will be liable to the punishment for stealing. The law on this subject is very stringent.

A Missouri Scene.—The army correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial is accompanying Fremont. He thus describes a scene on a recent march:

"Occasionally the General halted a moment to chat with bashful damsels in sun bonnets and hooped skirts—a courtesy which they will remember to the end of their life. At one point, a thin old matron with a brace of buxom daughters and a gigantic African attendant, were drawn up at the corner of a lane to witness the armed pageant. The old woman stood upon a projecting rail of the fence, to command a view of the line. When the General halted to speak to the blushing girls, the old lady sung out: 'Is that ar' Fremont talkin' to my gals?' The General politely lifted his cap. 'Well, I declar,' fervently ejaculated marm, 'it does me good to look at yer. I 'spose ye're arter old Claib Jackson—the dirty old scamp. I hope you'll ketch him, but I'm afeered you won't; he runs too fast. If I were a man I'd like to go and skulp him myself.' Here her African Anakim broke in with a 'yah, yah,' making a splendid exhibition of glittering ivory.—'Old missus all right on massa Claib—wouldn't gib shuks for him skulp, if she ketch him;' and the darkie indulged in a sly glance at his missus, and a wicked squint at the column, as if he desired to impress the troops with his convictions of the old woman's spirit and prowess."

Troubles in Richmond.—As winter is advancing, the brutal speculators in articles of clothing and necessary comforts are advancing prices beyond all reasonable decency. We are informed of instances where the common Virginia gray cloth, furnished by the manufacturer at 70 cents per yard, is sold by the Richmond dealers at the extortionate price of $3 50. Again, we have seen some excellent heavy cloth, six quarters in width, manufactured in Nashville, at $2 10; the same material is being sold in the city of Richmond at $10. These extortions are little less than positive crimes. If the Government will continue to hesitate to apply the correction, a citizens mass meeting might be called, at least to give some public expression of sentiment to retrieve the city of Richmond from the disgrace brought upon it by the extortions, flippant defiance and insufferable insolence of speculators, shinplasterers and small money-grabbing tradesmen.—Whig.

Notable Joe Lane Democrats Joining the Rebels.—John Young Brown, late M. C. from Kentucky, and Lazarus W. Powell, U. S. Senator from Kentucky, have run off from their homes in that State, and joined the rebel forces under Buckner. Brown heretofore professed to be a Union man, but has nearly crazed himself in the last few months, by drinking too much whisky, and Powell was thought to be too indolent for such an escapade. He has, however, belonged soul and body to Breckinridge, and was accustomed to sneeze whenever Breckinridge took snuff. He leaves a considerable property behind him, which Government should proceed to confiscate, but he has probably, in imitation of other prominent rebels, made a sham conveyance of it to some one at home, to save it from confiscation.

From Victoria.

The Pacific, from Victoria, brings us the Colonist, including the date of December 7.

Produce.—At Victoria—potatoes $1, per bushel; onions, 4 cts per lb; hay, $20@$25 per ton; flour $6@$6 50. Barley and oats at fair prices. Fresh butter, $1 per pound.

A small schooner, loaded with groceries, went on shore on Discovery Island, and stove, on Thursday night. The cargo was saved by fishermen. She was bound to San Juan.

The Mail Service.—One of our officials will go below shortly for the purpose of subsidizing one of upper steamers to run direct to this port during the spring months. [The object of that may be, to force the California miners to go to Victoria.]

War with the United States.—The Colonist thus speculates: "Squim-alt would become the rendezvous of a large fleet, and from there would sail expeditions to command the Columbia and capture San Francisco. The Columbia and capture San Francisco. The want of defence would render the latter an easy victory. With San Francisco, the Columbia and Puget Sound in our possession, no offensive operations can disturb us. The concentration of a large fleet here would have the effect of making many men."

The Otter arrived at Victoria from New Westminster on the 4th. She encountered fierce gales; brought down 80 passengers, and dust estimated at $250,000. Two Cariboo traders had $35,000. The ice prevented navigation on Fraser river.

Rebel Attempts to Bribe George D. Prentice.—George D. Prentice, although he has a son who is captain in the Confederate army, has proved himself one of the most incorruptible of patriots. Among the many schemes for carrying Kentucky out of the Union was an attempt to buy Prentice, or failing in that, to buy his paper. He was first approached with the modest sum of $25,000, which was promptly declined. The buyers thinking the bid too low, increased their offer, and through ex-Governor Morehead (now at Fort Lafayette,) Prentice was informed that there was $50,000 in a Louisville bank subject to his draft, provided the Journal were thenceforth according to certain terms. An increased severity upon Secessionists in the columns of the Journal was his response to the second proposal. Next came a Pacific Railroad map, (Dr. Martha Fowlkes of Memphis,) who eschewed all politics and wanted an influential paper to which she pretended to support the Southern Pacific Railroad enterprise. He offered $250,000 for the Journal, but this also was too low, and Prentice remains unbought and unpurchasable.

CITY.

Mr. E. Harbough informs us that great misapprehensions exist in regard to the wreck of Harvey's Oregon City mills. The wreck lodged on the East side of Swan Island. Mr. Harbough and seven other men went upon the wreck, moved all the property they could in a flat boat, and sent notice to Mr. Harvey. In their absence there might have been some property taken. The building was an entire wreck when it was discovered. Every effort possible was made to save the property for the owners.

Ocean Time.—The steamer Pacific, while crossing the bar on her last outward trip, struck a breaker, which stove in a considerable portion of her bulwarks; and in coming up the river yesterday morning, she came in contact with a very large snag, which had lodged in the river a mile and half from this city, breaking all the buckets out of the starboard wheel, and carrying away a considerable portion of her upper deck work. Men are engaged yesterday in repairing her, and she will be able to sail this evening.

Returned.—The steamer Rival returned yesterday afternoon from Oregon City bringing us later news from the upper Willamette. The steamer Relief had started up the river from Canemah yesterday morning, but was obliged to return before the Rival left on account of the strong current near Rock Island.

Farm Yards.—We are sorry to learn that the store house of Messrs. Williams & Lippincott at Dayton, and the warehouse of Mr. Volney Lafayette, containing a large quantity of grain had been swept away by the flood.

The Oregon City Foundry. — Messrs. Moore & Marshall's Machine Shop was safely towed into Gray's Bay, about twelve miles from Astoria. A great amount of machinery will be saved.

Saved.—The steamer Express returned yesterday morning from the Island Mills warehouse, having recovered therefrom some thirteen hundred sacks of flour for the owners.

The River.—Up to last evening the river at this point had risen some two inches during the twenty-four hours previous.

Thanks.—We are indebted to Mr. Phillips, the gentlemanly clerk on the steamer Pacific, for a file of Victoria papers.

Below River.—The sloop Fanny, Ketchum master, is in the river, coming up.

We are glad to notice that the Patent office has refused to extend McCormick's patents for mowers and reapers. He has made a great fortune by manufacturing them. Reapers that cost him $35 each, he was in the habit of selling for $140. We noticed that not long since he subscribed a very large amount of money for the establishment of a college—which he had drawn out of the pockets of farmers. We hope that after a while all the reapers and mowers to be used in Oregon will be manufactured here.

The Advertiser has a new motto: "The Union as our fathers made it—one and inseparable." The Times supposes that this is the result of the whipping the Advertiser's friends are receiving in the south. Our opinion is that it is raised, as some of the rebels raised the "Star Spangled Banner" at Manassas.

It is understood that the 9th regiment will not leave this coast; and we would be glad to learn that Major Lugenbeel's command will remain at Vancouver.

Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island.—When the young and gallant Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island first announced his intention of taking the field with the troops which were sent from his State for the defence of the capital, some of his more intimate friends endeavored to persuade him from his purpose. Among other arguments urged upon him, he was reminded that, as Governor of the State, his services in such a crisis would be needed all the more imperatively at home. To all arguments of this sort, the gallant Governor invariably responded: "I feel that my place in this crisis is in the field, with the troops of my State. If Rhode Island must keep her Governor at home, she can elect another man in my place as soon as she pleases, and I will take an humbler position with her troops." Gov. Sprague is a straight-forward man of few words, and when he says "powder," he means powder, and not saw-dust.

MARRIED:

At the house of W. W. Baker, in the city of Portland, Oregon, by Rev. James Gerrish, Dec. 9th, 1861, Mr. Thomas C. Walter to Miss Pauline Neeves.

Swett's Grape Bitters, or Restorative Wine, manufactured under the supervision of Mrs. A. M. Swett, the celebrated Clairvoyant Physician, and prepared from roots and herbs of great medicinal virtue, combined with the pure juice of the California Grape—a certain remedy for Liver Complaint, Debility, Biliousness, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Impaired Appetite, Impure Breath, &c., and all diseases requiring a powerful Liver Invigorator and Tonic. Warranted the best remedy ever invented for diseases peculiar to females, such as Leucorrhœa, or Whites, Weaknesses, &c. Sold by all Druggists, and by DANIEL SWETT, Proprietor, 535 California street, San Francisco. aug2d6m

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, for the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Record is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has lent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please inclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. POWER OF IMAGINATION —Dr. Noble in a able and analytical lecture at Manchester On the Dynamic Influence of Ideas," told a good anecdote of Mr Bouthouse, a French savant, in illustration to the power of imagination As Dr. Noble says

Mr Bouthouse served in Napoleon's army and was present at many engagements during the early part of last century At the battle of Wagram, 1800 he was engaged in the fray the ranks around him had been terribly thinned by shot, and at sunset he was nearly isolated While re loading his musket he was shot down by a cannon ball His impression was that the ball had passed through his legs below the knees separating them from the thighs for he suddenly sank down shortened, as he believed The trunk of the body fell backwards on the ground, and the senses were completely paralyzed by the shock Thus he lay motionless among the wounded and dead during the rest of the night, not daring to move a muscle, lest the loss of blood should be fatally increased He felt no pain, but this he attributed to the stunning effect of the shock to the brain and nervous system

At early dawn he was aroused by one of the medical staff who came round to help the wounded 'What's the matter with you my good fellow?' said the surgeon

'Ah! touch me tenderly,' replied Mr Bouthouse, "I beseech you, a cannon ball has carried off my legs!'

The surgeon examined the limbs referred to, and then giving him a good shake, said with a joyous laugh, 'Get up with you, you have nothing the matter with you'

Mr Bouthouse immediately sprang up in utter astonishment, and stood firmly on the legs he thought lost forever "I felt more thankful," said Mr. Bouthouse, than I had ever been in the whole course of my life before I had, indeed, been shot down by an immense cannon ball but instead of passing through the legs, as I firmly believed it had, the ball passed under my feet and ploughed a hole in the earth beneath, at least a foot in depth, into which my feet suddenly sank, giving me the idea that I had been thus shortened by the loss of my legs" The truth of this story is vouched for by Dr Noble

The post-office in E , was kept in the bar room of a tavern, a great resort for loungers An old chap, more remarkable for his coarseness and infidelity than for his good manners, was sitting there one day with a lot of boon companions, when the Methodist minister, a new comer, entered, and asked for his letters

Old Swipes spoke up bluntly

"Are you the Methodist parson just come here to preach?"

"I am," pleasantly replied the minister

"Well," said Swipes, "will you tell me how old the devil is?"

Keep your own family record!' quickly replied the preacher, and left the house amid the roars of the company

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

We furnish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease who having received their health and impelled by gratitude, make known the process and remedial agent and their statements are cheerfully sworn to Truth The demands of society kindly command their publicity and we commend them to the attention of all afflicted

Portland —The undersigned desirous of benefiting the community be unfortunate enough to be afflicted with any permanent relief of their sufferings but feels it his duty to thus publicly express his grateful gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay, for the restoration of his health Borne down by the distressing and direful effects of the vicious practices of youthful passion I was left depressed in body and mind, unable to perform the most trifling duty imposed upon them by my business relations I first sought the advice of many physicians who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance —but after a few weeks, and in several instances months of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture and being told, by one physician, being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health strength and energy and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope called upon Dr Czapkay, who after examining my case prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by a strict observance to all his directions and advice, my head became clear and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the wretchedness and evil forebodings the self-distrust and want of confidence in others the incapability to study and want of energy, the frightful exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and to recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice being assured by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—SIR I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more I feel very well except that I have not regained my strength yet, but soon will with the assistance of your medicine It is but three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your institute with my constitution, as I thought, ruined entirely and never thought you would be able to do anything for me perfectly But through your kindness and skill you not only gave me the pain in my back and head, and also gonorrhœa that I would not get excited and I would avoid cycling Now that you know what I expected, you can judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches on my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire purification of the sexual or other infirmities in man, arising from the justly celebrated physician and scholar Dr L J Czapkay His method of curing diseases is unknown to others there is but one the great success.
